PROCEEDINGS OF CIRCUIT COURT.

Hardinburg, Ky., Feb. 21.—(Special)—By consent, the cause of Jno. D. Shaw, cashier of the Farmers' Bank vs. the L. H. & S. L. Ry. Co. was continued until the next term of this court.

On motion of the defendants in the action of Mary Estes Keith vs Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W., the same was continued on account of the absence of material witness.

The action of R. B. Tietz vs. R. M. Jolly, etc., was continued on account of the illness of one of the defendants.

The case of E. F. Beard & Co. vs. Arthur Goodman was continued until the next term of court at the plaintiff's cost.

The actions of W. F. Gilliland and Minnie Gilliland against the Louisville and Evansville Mail Line Co. were continued for the plaintiff's and

THE PRIZE WINNERS.

The prize winners in the presidential vote contest have been announced by the Press Publishing Association, of Detroit. The total popular vote cast for the office of president at the election on Nov. 8, 1904, was 13,599,881. No subscriber to the News won a prize but each can tell by his certificate how far he missed the correct number. The first prize, $10,000, was won by W. H. Williams, Columbus, O., estimate 13,520,881; second prize, $5,000, devolved between E. Allen, Cambridge, Neb., and H. B. Hogg, Parkersburg, W. Va., estimate 13,530,882; of the twelve other big prizes, Williams got the sixth special prize of $500; All in the fifth special prize of $500 and Hogg the eighth special prize of $500, for early estimates. Nineteen small prizes out of 486 were won by Kentuckians. Among these were N. Dockey, of Caneyville, Grayson county, whose guess was 13,525,550.

A FAIR WARNING.

The hanging of Roy Green, on last Friday morning, at Owensboro, attracted general attention in Western Kentucky. Green murdered James Coomes at Owensboro on July 31, 1904, the crime being one of the most atrocious in the history of the State. Just before the trap was sprung Green said to those who witnessed the hanging: "Good people, I want to say that I did this awful crime, and I have repented of it. I hope this will be a warning to all boys. Mind what your mothers tell you and have wins-ky on. Don't do as I have done, for I have done wrong this far."

AFTER STANDARD OIL.

Elizabethtown, Ky., Feb. 17.—Commonwealth's Attorney Layman has filed ten suits in the March term of Circuit Court against the Standard Oil Company for peddling oil in the county without a license. A penalty of $1,000 is demanded in each case.

at their cost.

In the case of Winnie Hall vs. Flora Macv, for damages for defamation of character, on motion of the defendant, it was continued at her cost.

The report of sale of H. M. Beard, special receiver in the Clark cases, was confirmed. It shows $1,685 in his hands for distribution among the creditors.

The commissioner's report of division of land in the case of Albie Whitworth, etc., vs. Silas D. Macv, etc., was confirmed, no exceptions having been filed thereto.

The petit jury for this term consists of the following gentlemen: Wm. A. Dowas, N. B. Robertson, Isaac Pile, Jr., Charles Kirby, Ed. Gootman, Taylor Dowell, Kirby Blain, Ben Lay, J. B. Herndon, J. V. St. Clair, J. F. Biddle, James King, Arch Weatherford, H. S. Brumfield, Wm. A. Kasey, Bert Butler, E. B. Barber, J. H. Bandy, Wm. Hendrick, Elsie Meador, John Rhodes and Thomas Walls.

In the seven suits of The Commonwealth vs. the Standard Oil Co., to recover $1,000 in each case, as a penalty for the alleged peddling of oil without license, the defendant filed a demurser in every case. The court sustained the demurser in one case and it will be appealed by Mr. Layman to the court of appeals, as a test case. The other actions against the Standard Oil Co. were continued.

One of the most important cases on the docket for this term of court was a petition filed by the executors of Fred Walter, deceased, asking for a construction of his will. Mr. Walter left an estate valued at $50,000, and the largest devise is to Mrs. Charles May and her children, D. W. Fairleigh, of Louisville, and V. G. Babage, of Cloverport, represent Mrs. May. The case was continued until the May term.

NO PLAN TO BUILD AT ANY TIME SOON.

President Cox, Of The Henderson
Route, Denies That Extension
Of Track Will Be Made Now.

Information coming from what is said to be a good source is that the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis railroad is preparing to build a line, from West Point to a point three miles from Louisville and there connect with the Louisville and Nashville line, says the Courier-Journal. This would mean that the Henderson Route would use the L. and N. terminals and run its trains into the Tenth-street station, instead of the Seventh-street depot as at present.

The report is denied by the high officials of the Henderson Route, who say they have been doing some work on the right of way between this city and West Point, but that they have no intention to build a line to Louisville from that point any time soon.

It was reported that the Henderson Route officials had notified the Illinois Central that they would not use the Illinois Central tracks from West Point to Louisville after a certain time, but that such a notification had been made by the officials of both the roads.

When Attila Cox, Sr., president of the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis railroad company, was asked about the report he said:

"There is absolutely nothing in it. We have not sent any such notification to the Illinois Central and have no idea of doing so. It is true that we have recently procured a piece of land in the right-of-way and have been doing a little work in Salt River, but we have no plan to build the line at this time. We have had the right-of-way for a number of years and it is our intention to build some time, but if we should desire to do so it would depend entirely upon what arrangements we could make for terminals, and we have never so much as investigated that matter."

STATE'S NEWSPAPERS.

Newspapers are published in 139 towns in the State. There are 119 county seats, but a newspaper is published in only 102 of these leaving 116 county seats without newspapers. There are 30 daily, one tri-weekly, 17 semi-weeklies, 235 weeklies, 4 semi-monthlies, 24 monthlies and 3 quarters, making in all 314 publications in the State. The quality of the average Kentucky paper is far and way above what it was a few years ago. Now it is very rare that a "penny back" paper can be found, and when so it is only issued by small and unimportant publications.

CRITTENDEN'S LETTER. (Courier-Journal.)

To the Editor of the Courier-Journal: I deeply regret the death of Col. Robert W. Woolley. I know him in past years quite well. I know not his age. I presume he had worn his physical machinery out by the many frictions of this life, part natural and part unnatural. He was truly a brilliant man, and that brilliancy led him into many eccentricities, which, in the opinion of many, lessened his usefulness as a lawyer, as a citizen and as a social friend. He was a man of positive opinions and no objects occupying his mind, whether 'the hyssop which grows from the wall or the cedar of Lebanon.' When a youth at Cloverport I went to Hawesville to hear a joint discussion between him and William R. Kinney, of Hartford. I think both were about the same age. Kinney was then 'unknown to fortune and to fame' only in that neck of the woods embracing Breckinridge, Hancock and Ohio counties. Kinney was an educated boy. I knew him when carrying this mail, to use a common expression, once a week between Hartford and Cloverport. Woolley was, of course, highly educated and accomplished. When they met the political friends of Woolley expected an easy victory. It was 'Greek meeting Greek' as it turned out, each presenting his views to a crowded hall with much force and receiving much applause, those of Woolley the more cultured, the more refined; those of Kinney the more unrefined to the manner born, he using the words of the common people from whose ranks he was sprung, and when the debate closed each respected the other 'as a son of man worthy of his steel.' In later years they became friends at the Louisville bar. Now as both have gone from that city in which they were honored for many years, never again to return, never again to enter the 'Gaudia certaminis' of that splendid bar, may we not say:

"Lay them down gently at the iron gate."

OBITUARY.

On Tuesday, Feb. 7, 1905, at 7:40 o'clock, all that was mortal of Elisha Gardner passed into the great beyond. He had been a sufferer since November, 1902, and for the last fourteen months had been an inmate of the "Soldiers' Military Home" at Marion, Ind.

Of his life it can be truthfully said that it was honest, upright and noble. Always abounding in deeds of charity, he was a good man, a loving husband and a kind father, and his loss will be deeply felt by all who knew him. After his entrance at the "Home," he made a visit of three or four months to his old home at Union Star and to his children at Irvington and at West Point, at which places he had quite a number of friends and acquaintances.

Mr. Gardner was born in Hant County, Ky., Nov. 14, 1839, his early days being spent in Louisville. He later joined the army and served through the civil war. After his return he was married to Nancy Eliza Gardner on January 26, 1865, at the Hites Road Baptist church, by Rev. Hager. To this union eight children were born, six of whom are now deceased: W. B. Gardner, Irvington, Mrs. Don G. Hendry, West Point; Newson, John, Ida and Jessie. During his last hours, when he was asked if he had any fear of death, his reply was, "All is well with my soul," and he repeated the twenty-third psalm, and ere he finished the entire chapter, his spirit had winged its flight.

The funeral services were conducted at the Irvington Baptist church by Rev. J. T. Lewis, assisted by Rev. Hynes, pastor of the Methodist church there, and Rev. Graves, pastor of the Presbyterian church. His remains were laid to rest in "Cedar Hill Cemetery." Now that his earthly life is o'er, and all his afflictions that were so gently borne are past and gone, we mourn not as those who have no hope, but expect to meet him "some day" in a home where there is no sorrow nor death, in that home "Whose builder and maker is God."

HOW IT COULD GO.

In 1903, in the gubernatorial race, Beckman received 4,657 votes and Belknap 4,243—in the Tenth Senatorial district, composed of the counties of Hancock, Breckinridge and Meade. If the voting strength of the two parties remains about the same in the district, allowing for increase in population, this shows about how the Senatorial election next November could very easily go.

TIME FOR PEOPLE.

The Czar of Russia has expressed the conviction that the time has come to prepare to give the people a voice in the government.

HOW MUCH DO YOU OWE?

The earth has 1,487,900,000 inhabitants, or 207,580,000 families. Its permanent load of war debts is $1,000 for every family.

Health of American Women

A Subject Much Discussed at Women's Clubs—The Future of a Country Depends on the Health of Its Women.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen Miss Mattie Henry

At the New York State Assembly of March 1, a prominent New York doctor told the 500 women present that healthy American women were so rare as to be almost extinct.

This seems to be a sweeping statement of the female organization of American women. Yet how many do you know who are perfectly well and do not have some trouble arising from a derangement of the female organism? Many millions of us have indigestion, backaches, nervousness that bearing-down feeling, painful or irregular menstruation, leucorrhea, displacement of ovaries, ovarian cysts, indigestion, insomnia or sleeplessness? There is a tried and true remedy for all these ailments. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored many women to health than all other remedies in the world. It regulates strengths and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

It has been curing the worst forms of female complaints.

Such testimony as the following should convince:

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Ia., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"I must truly say that you have saved my life and I can never thank you enough for it in words. For two years I spent lots of money in doctoring without any benefit, for men said I was crazy. I had given up all hope of ever being well again, but I was persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and it at once removes such troubles. No other medicine in the world has received such unanimous endorsement. No other female has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you I would have been for to-day."

A light heart, a cheerful countenance, and all the charms of grace and beauty are dependent upon proper action of the sexual organs. You cannot look well unless you feel well.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to call on her for advice. Her advice and medicine have restored thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

A Heart to Heart Talk With Bald Heads.

From The Philadelphia Inquirer.

Do not get angry if some one alludes to you as old. It may be manners on his part, but most silly in you to resent it. Besides, it isn't true.

Go back and do a little figuring. Didn't you often think when you were young, that certain people were real old, nearly ready to be through with the world? Do a bit of subtraction and addition, and the result is likely to be that you find they were then about the same age you are now. It is to be hoped that you never hurt their feelings as that fellow did yours, but the young are thoughtless, and you were young then.

Don't let that spot on your head get grimy. Polish it up every day, and when you wash your face and neck use a cloth and rub hard, right down into the wrinkles. Dirt likes to settle in the furrows.

Keep your teeth clean, but don't keep them in sight, for they are not attractive to anybody but yourself.

Don't get into the habit of moaning and groaning or bringing up great puffs of wind just because you aren't feeling quite well or have eaten too much. Perhaps it is because you are lonely, having nothing to do and want to convince yourself that you are all there.

When you dip from the tank or pail don't throw back what is left in the dipper. That was excusable in the distrist school when we had a mile to go to find the well, but water is plenty now and people are esthetic.

When you eat mush or soup don't decorate your beard. Remember how such things in others used to impress you and learn to take time to eat neatly. You are over the harvesting days.

Don't become careless about what you wear and think any old thing will do. Old and faded garments make an old and faded person look ten times as miserable as he has any right to be.

Don't tell people you are in the way and only a nuisance. It is foolish to suggest such ideas when, perhaps, if you keep still, they would never think of them.

Don't forget it is harder to keep nice when old than when we were young, but it is also more necessary. In short, watch your personal habits and show people that you have been invited by Time to be an old man, you have undertaken the part, and intend to be a good actor and do the business as it should be done.

CHAMPION PLAYER.

Louis Sable, of Louisville, has been man and father of Hites' Run, is much talked over his defeat at checker playing by Henry Beavin, who is undoubtedly the champion checker player of Breckinridge county, and, perhaps, hasn't an equal in a few other counties. Beavin has won ninety-nine games out of a hundred from Mr. Sable.

AN AUTO-SLEIGH.

Edward Temple, a machinist of Springfield, O., has invented an automobile sleigh, which has been successfully tested. The machine is propelled by a gasoline engine of 20 horse-power, has runners like a bobsled and is forced rapidly over the snow by a rapidly revolving spiral wheel between the rear runners.

EIGHT PAGES. WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1905.

THOUGHTS.

"For the success of our civilization what is needed is not brilliant ability, not unusual genius, but the qualities of plain work-a-day virtue possessed by the average man—the quality that makes out of him a good father, a good husband, and a good citizen. That is what we have to deal with in life first of all.—President Roosevelt.

MUD and slush always follow a freeze up.

Don't let this damp weather soften your heart along with your tobacco, Mr. Farmer.

There is one thing we are glad to see getting up in the world, and that is the thermometer.

Our city fathers are doing the handsome thing by spreading ashes on the muddy places.

The government crop report, it turns out, over estimated the corn crop for 1904 by 400,000,000 bushels.

The wheat crop isn't coming out of the freeze up in very good shape. It looks as if it were badly frost bitten.

A queer sight is that of Bryan and Roosevelt occupying the same bed. The question that puzzles a good many people is whose bed is it, Bryan's or Roosevelt's.

A Hungarian club in New York recently entertained President Roosevelt in royal style. Things have changed in the last fifty years. There were no Roosevelts in Louis Kossuth's time.

Mr. WILLIAM CASEY, who had his ear badly frost bitten last Monday week, was in his place on the jury last Monday, his ear well and in good shape. He says Parsoncump did the work.

TON LAWSON says the Standard Oil trust is doomed, that it will go down as fast as it went up. He stands ready, he says, to walk barefooted from Boston to Washington to help President Roosevelt manipulate the probe.

Don't slam the door. Many a woman's nerves are wrecked and her temper fired by just this sort of carelessness on the part of men. It should be a man's religious duty to temper his ways to the peace and quiet of his home.

Broken—the backbone of winter. Now if the backbone of the tobacco trust would loosen up with the weather business would boom, the farmer would be happy and all hands would go round together. And such a happy time we all would have.

THE POLITICIANS don't like our ticket for sheriff. Just as we expected. A politician don't like anything when he is not in it. But the people like it and it seems to us they ought to have a say in the matter. It is a good, safe, clean ticket, just what the people want and should have. Why not name them and elect them?

THE ICE plant is a sure go for Cloverport, and we are glad of it, thanks to the enterprising citizens who put up their money to get it. Cloverport is slowly but surely coming to the front. With the ice plant other industries will follow. All we want to do is to keep hammering, keep pulling, keep cheerful and hopeful and we'll all get there in the end. There are no fies on Cloverport.

PROF. ANDREW DRISKELL has forty-four pupils enrolled in his normal school at Harned and has applications for several more. A primary department, in charge of Miss Aurey Ballman, has been established and has been a success from the start. Prof. Drisckell is a man of energy and hard work and is doing a great work for the young men and women of this country. We are glad to see him succeeding in his work. May his normal at Harned continue to grow and prosper.

THAT Missouri farmer is our kind of a farmer, the farmer who stands by his home paper. But the News has no right to complain. The farmers of Breckinridge county have stood by it for nearly thirty years and are still doing it. And why shouldn't the News stand by them? The News has always been a friend to the farmer, is now and ever shall be as long as the writer has anything to stand on. If there was a time when the farmer needed standing by, encouraging and a stiff backbone, it is now. The fight of his life is on.

THE HEROES of this country are the men whose names seldom find a place in print. There is the track walker on our railroads, covering miles of track with the thermometer eight and ten below zero, scanning every foot of the way for our safety. And the engineer, who drives his engine, at a mile a minute, over ice-covered rails through snow and sleet and rain, for his train must arrive on time regardless of the weather. The man in the warm cabin seldom thinks of the man at the throttle. It takes a brave man to run an engine, as little as we think of it. All honor to him.

QUARTERLY meeting services were held with the Irvington church last Saturday and Sunday. Rev. Hynes, the pastor, is loud in his praise of his membership and his official board, and, from his point of view, it is one of the best in the Louisville conference. His official board, he says, is a business board composed of business men who make it their business to see that the collections are all up promptly and settlement made in full at the end of every quarter, consequently the pastor comes out a happy man, strong and vigorous, and in shape to do good work for his church and people. Rev. Hynes is to be congratulated.

Don't forget our guessing contest. It will be your last chance to strike a fortune at so little cost and effort. All you have to do is to guess the amount of money paid into the Treasury Department at Washington on the 27th day of March, 1905. Here's the way the receipts are running now:

TREASURY RECEIPTS 1905.
February 8,	$2,051,043
" 9,	1,554,252
" 10,	1,766,560
" 15,	1,566,479
" 17,	1,758,364
" 18,	2,065,338

We can name a man who ought to be sent to the legislature from this county. He is a good, clean, honest, conservative, everyday business man,—not a politician, not a seeker after office, not a fanatic on any subject. He is a man of sterling worth, high character and standing, and a man among men, a man who would represent the rich and the poor, the farmer, the mechanic, the laborer, the banker, the merchant and the corporation; just such a man as every county needs in the legislature. Republicans, Democrats and Independents could and would support him. But he wouldn't make a fight for the office. Don't suppose he would contribute a cent for his election, or make a speech, but we believe he's got patriotism enough in him to serve his county if called. That man is no other than W. H. Bowmer, of this town.

AFTER OIL TRUST.

Ramsey is up in arms against the Standard Oil Company trust.

Oil-producing states are watching her fight with interest and are ready to aid her, and she has other powerful allies. Because crude oil is bought in Kansas by the trust at very low prices and sold, when refined, at very high prices, the Kansas Legislature has passed a bill providing for a state commission to complete it with the Standard Oil Co. for the benefit of the producers in an effort to compel monopoly to be decent." Upon a request from Kansas President Roosevelt has ordered special investigation of the Standard Oil Company at the hands of the Bureau of Corporations of the Department of Commerce and Labor, with especial reference to the company's recent operations in Kansas.

ICE READY TO MOVE.

Owing to the rising temperature and the dense fogs during the past week the ice in the Ohio is very soft and the big gorges are expected to break loose at any hour. Rivermen are hoping that the ice will move without a rise sufficient to inflict any considerable damage to hundreds of craft which are stuck in the ice at various points. The river rose several feet last week and then began to rise again. A rise, of course, would hasten the breaking of the gorges but do much damage. The situation is extremely tense for river men.

It will be four weeks today since the river closed at this point, the longest freeze since 1862.

MEETINGS CONTINUED.

The cottage prayer meetings, which were held at the homes of members of the different churches last week, are being continued this week, though the time has been changed from 2:30 in the afternoon to 10 o'clock in the morning.

STOOD OPERATION.

Morris Jolly, of Irvington, was operated on in Louisville yesterday morning for the second time. He stood the operation well and is doing very as a result.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Methodist church. You are cordially invited.

If you want to hear some good preaching and singing attend the meetings now in progress at the Methodist church.

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs, Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request.
Be sure that this picture is on the front of every box or wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

MAN AND HIS ATTIRE

SOME DRESS TO KILL, WHILE IT KILLS OTHERS TO DRESS.

Bret Harte's Dauntless Ideas on Saratoga's Habit. About the Meanings of the Distracted's Eccentricities.

Some men dress to kill, while it kills others to dress. Men may talk about the absurdities and discomforts of feminine dress as much as they please, but it pleases some of them to do so a great deal—but when warm weather comes the women have an opportunity to do so, too. It is this little game and make an overhasty judgment.

A champion of man's superior common sense can receive no greater setback than to stroll along the street a July morning and observe the appearance and actions of the different sexes in their habitments. Here, for instance, a woman is walking with a stiff hat on her head, a tail with a stiff skirt around her neck, a stiffly starched shirt bosom covering his breast, stiff cuffs on his wrists, woolen coat, vest and trousers upon the portions of his anatomy adapted thereto, perspiration and dust upon his brow.

It is this the way poor daddy will go! This is the way poor daddy will go!

"Such, Mr. Hawkins, was their execrable grief."

Bengalee Superstitions.

Among the Bengalees it is said that shouting the name of a king of birds (garuda) drives away snakes. Shouting "Ram! Ram!" drives away ghosts. Cholera that attacks on Monday or Saturday always proves fatal. Cholera that attacks on Thursday never fatal. Theflowering of the banyan tree is a good omen. Family members can wish the body it would be instantly knocked three times against the ground. When giving alms the giver and receiver should both be on the same side of the threshold. It is bad to pick one's teeth with the nails. If a snake be killed it should immediately be buried, for if it is left to crawl about it will bite again.

It is bad to sleep on a mat for one night, and being asked for his opinion, he said his sleeping on a mat was a good omen.

Savages dress for warmth and decency, but as a rule civilized men and women dress not only for these indispensable purposes, but to delight the eyes of those who look at them. There is no expense that a rational man shuns more gladly incur than that of dressing himself only himself, but for the women who are dependent upon him—George Bancroft Griffith in Chicago Record-Herald.

Church Composed of Fossils.

There is a church in the quiet little village of Mumford, near Niagara Falls, which is built entirely of fossils. The first glance the walls appear to be constructed of rough limestone smeared with an uneven coating of gritty, coarse plaster, but a closer view reveals the error of this first conclusion. Instead of plaster the eyes behold traceries of delicate leaves, ferns, and flowers, fragments of bark and splinters of wood, all preserved against the wasting of time and decay by being turned into the hardest of flinty limestone. As a matter of fact, every block of stone in the walls daily is a closed cemented mass of fossils.

Their Executive Grief.

Lord Brampton related that once while he was plain John Hawkins he defended a man for wife murder. The prisoner's two children, dressed in black and sobbing violently, were in court, and their grief and the lawyer's eloquence moved the judge to sentence the man to death. That evening dinner he met an old inhabitant of the neighborhood, who complimented him upon his speech. "However," he added, "I think that if you had seen what I did when driving past the prisoner's cottage last evening, you would have given him a hearty pat on the back." The old man was so violent in his defense of the man that he was given a broad brimmed hat of light, perforated silk, a mass of semi-transparent lace from which two bare arms and one dito neck appear, and between the hat and the lace a woman's face is seen, cool, complacent, wholly comfortable, unknowing person. Imagine him, after all the agonies of trial, to be able to afford a smile to a cravat with the words "This is the way poor daddy will go! This is the way poor daddy will go!"

Bengalee Superstitions.

Among the Bengalees it is said that shouting the name of a king of birds (garuda) drives away snakes. Shouting "Ram! Ram!" drives away ghosts. Cholera that attacks on Monday or Saturday always proves fatal. Cholera that attacks on Thursday never fatal. The flower of the banyan tree is a good omen. Family members can wish the body it would be instantly knocked three times against the ground.

When giving alms the giver and receiver should both be on the same side of the threshold. It is bad to pick one's teeth with the nails.

If a snake be killed it should immediately be buried, for if it is left to crawl about it will bite again.

THE WORST WINTER
IN THE SOUTHWEST.W.C. Taul Writes About Weather Conditions In Cattle Country
And Financial Improvements.

W. C. Taul, formerly of this country, writes to the News from Wanyoku, Oklahoma, as follows:

It has been a long time since I wrote anything for your columns. We are in the icy grip of one of the worst winters since I have lived in this Southwestern country. It reminds me of the old Kentucky winters, except that we have had no mud here. The ground has not been free from snow since the holidays and we have had out very few fair days in that time. It has been an exceptional winter for cold and snow. Old stockmen, who have been on the range here for thirty years, say it is the worst they have ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Large herds is a thing of the past. The country is being more and more turned into farming land, as it pays better than cattle raising. The indications are that we will have a fine wheat crop another season, as the ground has had more moisture this winter than for several years. Wheat looks fine in this part of the country.

The people in general are getting in a better financial condition every year. They are building new residences to take the place of their pioneer homes, such as dugouts and sod shanties, and are improving their houses generally.

When I first came here I traveled for two days without seeing a house or even a human being. Today, on every quarter section of 160 acres, or this same country, you will find some one living.

I am glad to see the farmers taking such a firm stand for their rights and the News also upholding them. Without the farmers we do nothing. The farmers should be the most independent people, but we are not. For from the farmer all other classes derive their hog and hominy, and it is high time the farmers should combine for better representation in government and a better price for what they produce."

MURDER AT MILLWOOD.

Letchfield, Ky., Feb. 16.—The body of Samuel Miller, a farmer sixty-five years old, was found at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the public road near Millwood, with his throat cut from ear to ear. It was near the home of Grayson Layman, one of the best-known men of the section, and this morning Layman gave himself up and is in the custody of the officers here. He says he and Miller quarreled in the road over family matters, and that in a struggle over a weapon which Layman drew and attempted to use, Miller was shot and killed. Beyond this he refused to talk, declaring that what he did was only in self-defense. The man was neighbor and family troubles had kept them apart for some time. Yesterday they met on the road and the quarrel was resumed which resulted in Miller's death.

The Ways Of A Mother.

(Cincinnati Post.)

How the mother love crops out in unexpected places! It is a fact that the average woman would endure humiliation, physical and mental torture—anything—for her children. There are no limits.

The other day they had David Edward Richard, 19, in a Kansas City court. He was a good deal of a scoundrel. He had stolen. He had lied to the Judge on the bench.

In the courtroom was a sweet, refined, good woman—his mother—and you can not imagine the torture that assailed her, the horror of the publicity, the terror that possessed her as she realized that the doors of the penitentiary were open to her son.

What did she do?

She kneeled down in that courtroom and prayed God to soften the heart of her boy, to lead him into ways of righteousness, to make the Judge know how she had striven to bring him up honest, to forgive her son for his crime and to have mercy upon him and her.

Do you wonder that the courtroom was silent and that loungers who frequented the place found tears on their cheeks?

Do you wonder that a boy, with a great sob, threw himself on his mother's breast and cried: "Mother, God forgive me! I am a liar and a thief!"

The law does not take these things into account. The law itself does not know sympathy, or reckon with the hearts of mothers; but let's be glad that laws are man-made and man-enforced, and that penitence sometimes weighs more than the statutes.

David Edward Richard will have a chance, to redeem himself; to prove that he can yet become a man.

As for the Mother—nothing you could say would make her any more an angel than she is—

FOR HER IS THE WAY OF MOST MOTHERS.

Meade County.

(Messenger.)

Allie Burch and Miss Margaret Stiff, of Mooleyville, were married at St. Theresa church last Wednesday.

Monday was the coldest day of the season in Brandenburg, the thermometer registering five degrees below zero at 8 o'clock, a.m.

The condition of the wheat crop is far more promising in this country at present than has been anticipated. The heavy snows and sleets have made a fine covering during the freezing weather, and farmers are enthusiastic over the outlook, hoping for a far greater yield than ever seemed possible.

This has been a hard winter in some respects. Every day we hear somebody say that the winters now are colder than they were years ago. Of course that is an error. Why, when many of us were boys we had snows frequently from twelve to twenty-four inches deep on a dead level. It isn't a matter of cold weather, after all—merely one of memory.

United States District Attorney R.D. Hill has filed suit in the United States District Court to enforce the forfeiture of the goods and chattels of the Brandenburg Distilling Company, the plant of which was seized by Deputy Collector W. L. Archer, of the Internal Revenue Department, for the Fifth district. The officials are cited to appear in court to defend the condemnation proceedings on March 13.

BRYAN NOT DEAD
POLITICALLY YET.Why The Star Of Destiny Still Shines For Most Powerful And Popular Of Living Democrats.

(Detroit United States Daily)

The star of destiny still shines for William Jennings Bryan. He is the all-powerful leader of the Democratic party today. He is in the glare of the lime-light of publicity, and can gather thousands where other would-be leaders cannot gather scores. The Savanah News complains that instead of retiring to obscurity after his two Presidential defeats, he bobs up in unexpected places, finds on every possible platform, "wherever the Macon News reports, 'Mr. Bryan is today the most popular living Democrat in all the nation.' All this gives the Atlanta Constitution an opportunity to say:

"Mr. Bryan retains his great popularity, not through the cheap methods of a poseur who understands the advertising tricks of the press agent, but because, more nearly than does any other living American citizen, he embodies in his personality and expressed convictions the American ideal of honest, fearless statesmanship. It matters not how far the magnetic Nebraskan may fall short of this lofty ideal in his abilities and accomplishments—he may have his failings and even his superficialities—he may not have risen to the full height of his opportunity—he is, nevertheless, a relic of almost a lost type of the great publicist and orator so dear to the old Americans. He can heart and still deems to Americans who venerate the statesmen days of the republic. Mr. Bryan is acknowledged to have few peers as a hustings orator, and no man has a right to question the sincerity of his impassioned speech. Radical he may be, but his is the radicalism of conviction—deep, uncompromising conviction—and not the radicalism of the demagogues. Any man, whatever his opinions or prejudices, cannot but respect the constancy to principle that Mr. Bryan has ever evinced in defeat and the dignity with which he has borne himself. Mr. Bryan possesses moral qualities that are all too rare."

For the rest, Mr. Bryan stands for principals that millions of his fellow citizens—herish as their political tenets. The fact that those he represents in the fence forum of ideas are at present on the minority does not lessen the respect due his leadership or the force of his individuality. That minority may be a Gideon's band, but strong with the potentialities of ultimate victory. It may yet leave the whole lump of the American body politic.

The Constitution sees no reason why any Democrat should displease or disparage Mr. Bryan. It may be easy to pick flaws in him, for who is completely exempt from criticism? But Mr. Bryan, in the abstract, is immuno-mental. He fills a large niche in contemporary history.

And, politically, he is not dead yet.

Suffering

Will Not Help Your Disease, but Will Weaken Your Nerves.

Folks who think it is better to bear pain than sooth it are wrong.

Old-fashioned doctors used to say it was better because they had nothing with which to ease pain but dangerous, heart-paralyzing drugs.

But now, that a safe remedy has been found, Anti-Pain Pills, it is wrong to suffer, for nothing can be gained but weakened nerves.

A safe rule to remember is: When in pain, take an Anti-Pain Pill.
